

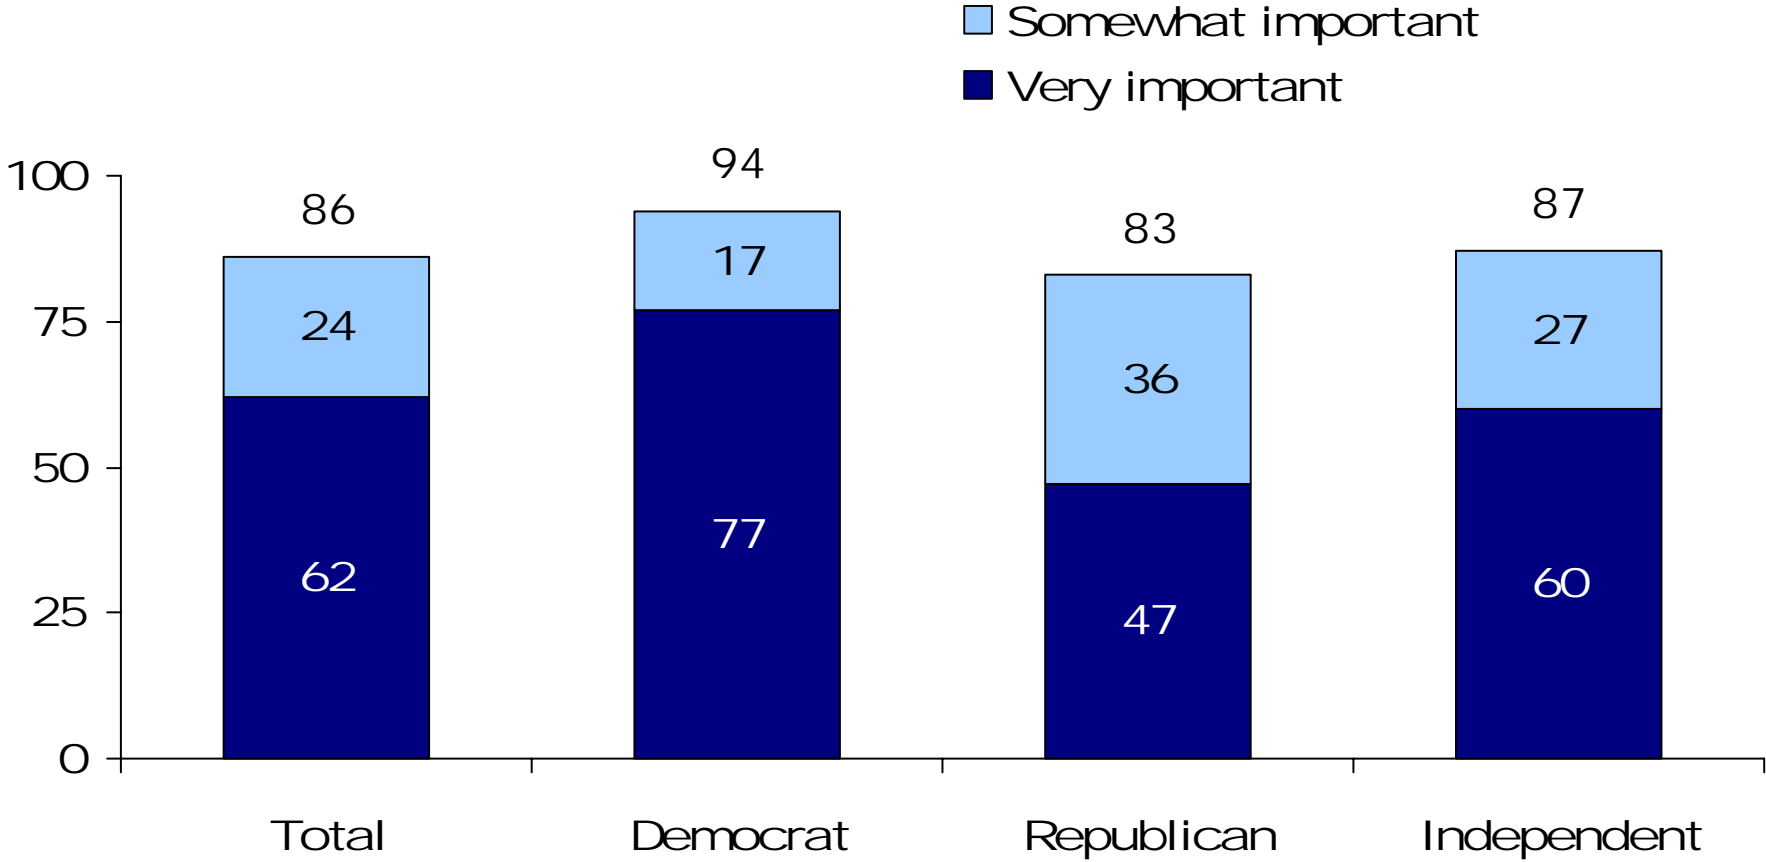

Figure 1. When You Are Deciding Who to Vote for in Next Year's Presidential Election, How Important Will the Candidate's Views on Health Care Reform Be?

Percent of adults who say candidates' views on health reform will be very/somewhat important

Source: Analysis of the Commonwealth Fund Biennial Health Insurance Survey (2007).

Figure 2. Support for the Proposal That Employers Should Either Provide Health Insurance to Their Employees or Contribute to a Fund That Would Help Cover Workers Without Health Insurance

Percent of adults who say that employers should either provide health insurance or contribute to a fund

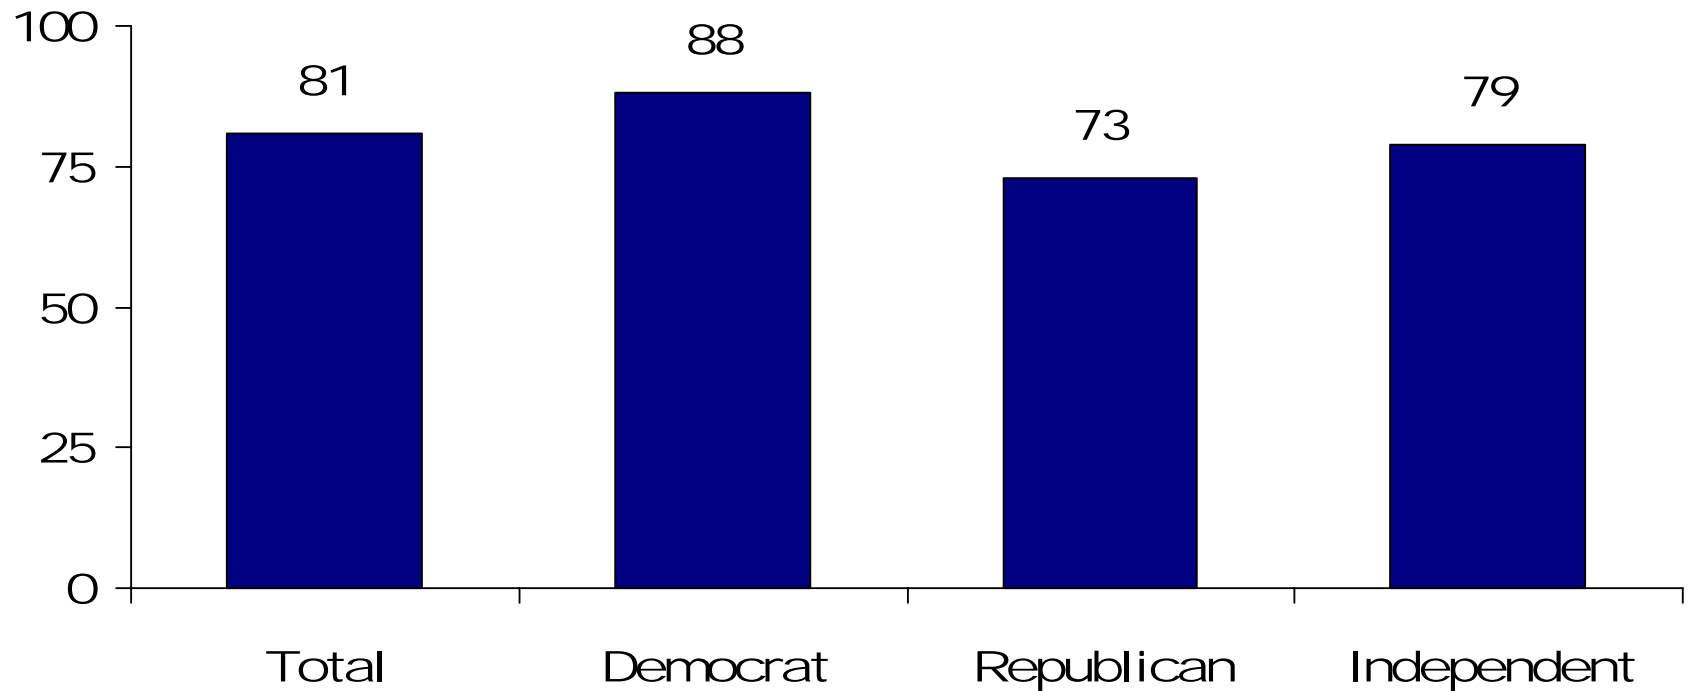

Figure 3. Support for a Health Reform Proposal That Requires That Everyone Have Health Insurance, with Government Helping Those Who Cannot Afford It

Percent of adults who strongly/somewhat favor a requirement that everyone have health insurance

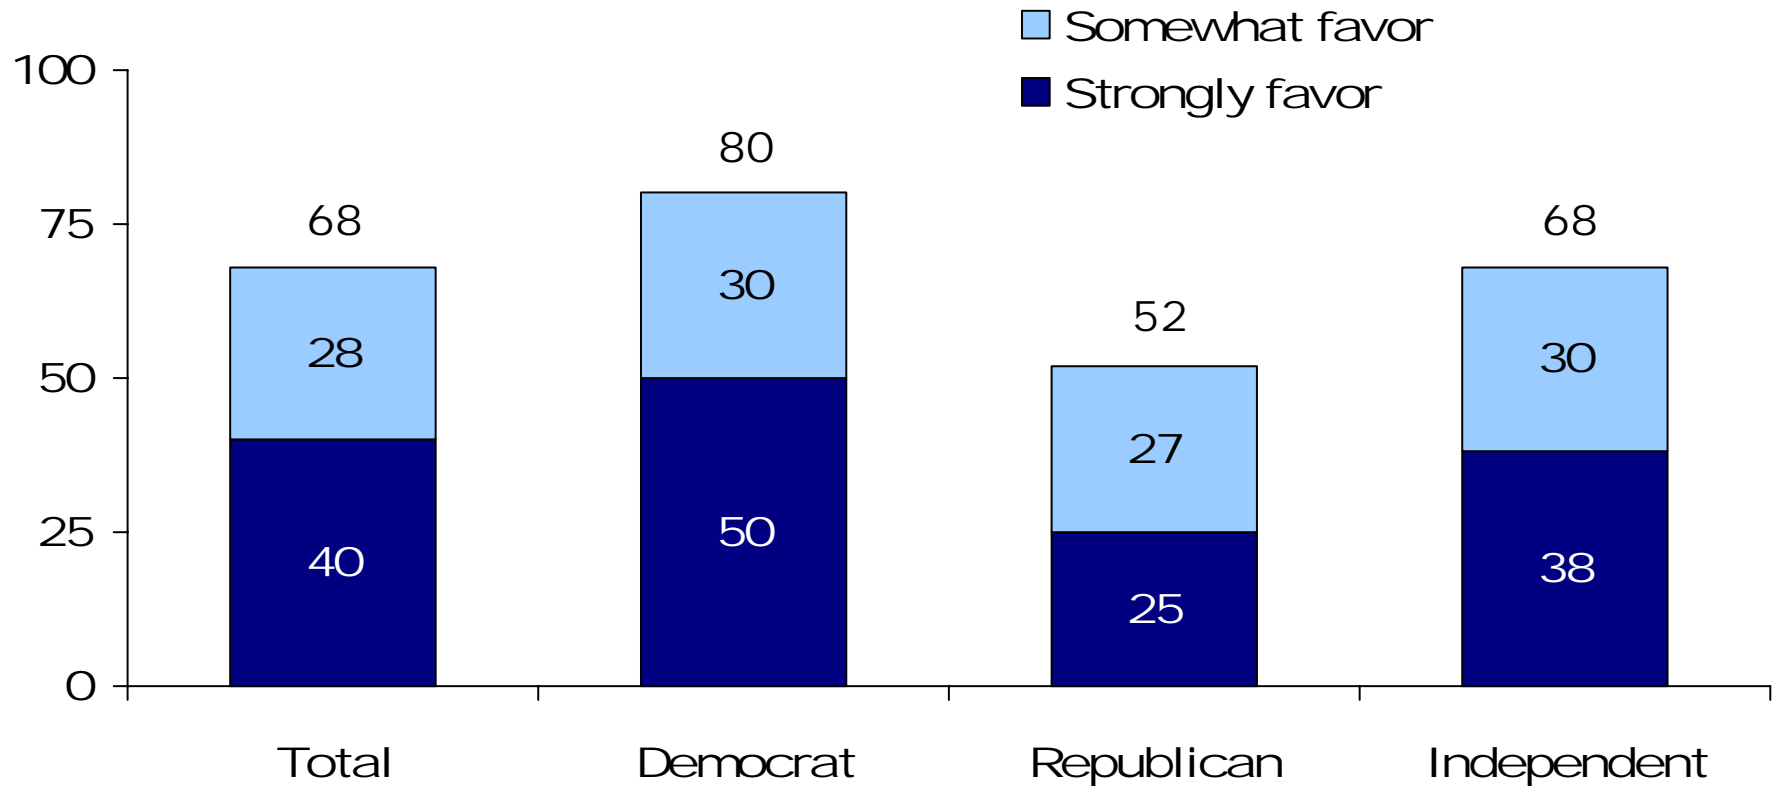

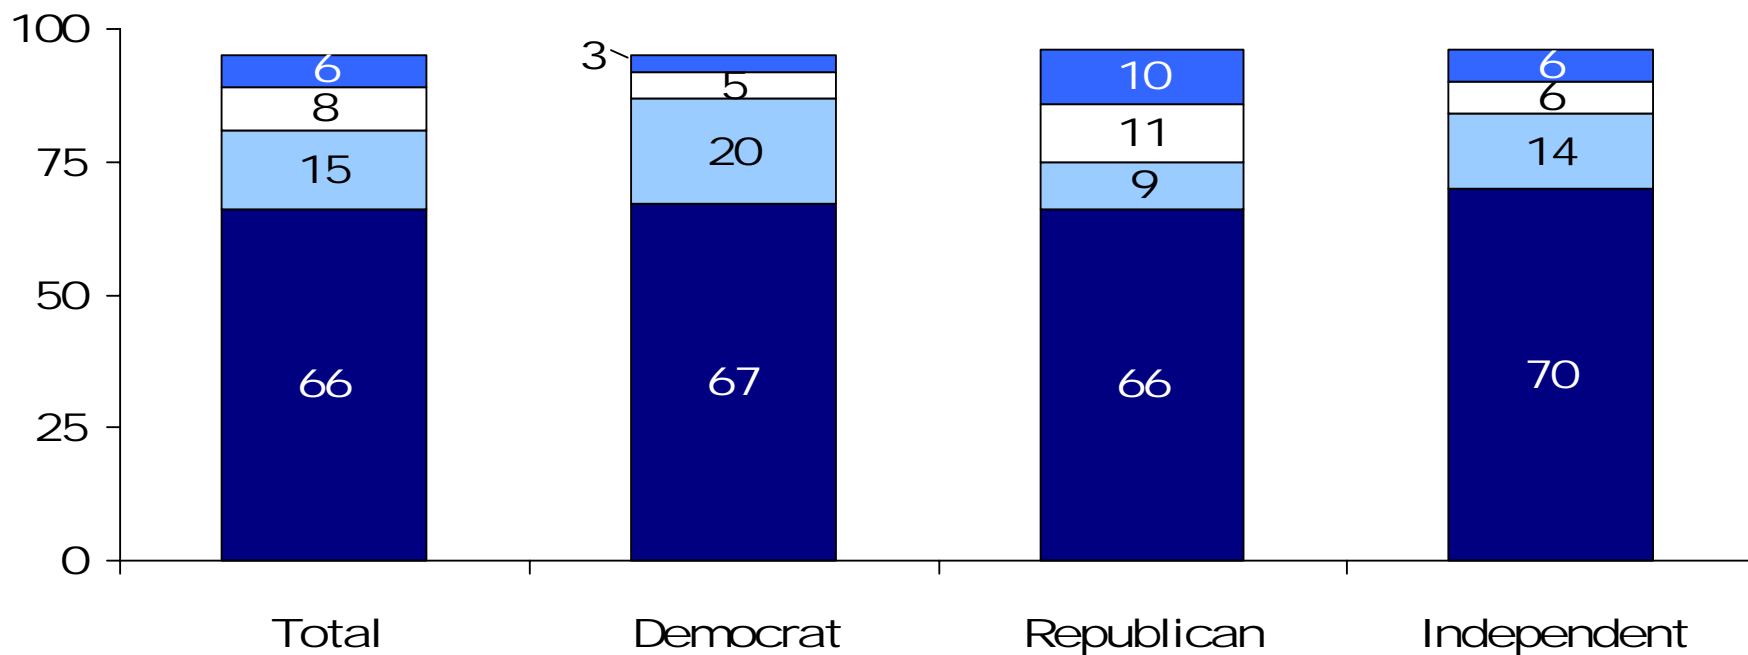

Figure 4. Who Do You Think Should Pay for Health Insurance for All Americans?

Percent of adults who say health insurance costs should be paid for by:

- Mostly individuals
- Mostly employers
- Mostly the government
- Shared by individuals, employers, and the government

Note: Bars do not total to 100% because survey respondents who refused to answer or answered “don’t know” are not shown.
Source: Analysis of the Commonwealth Fund Biennial Health Insurance Survey (2007).