Health Centers in Medicaid Expansion States Were More Likely to Report Improvements in Capacity and Financial Stability Since the ACA

On the whole, since the Affordable Care Act was passed in 2010, the following have much improved or improved at your health center organization . . .

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Expansion States</th>
<th>Nonexpansion States</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Financial stability</td>
<td>69%*</td>
<td>41%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Funding for service or site expansions and upgrades for facilities</td>
<td>62%*</td>
<td>46%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ability to provide affordable care to more patients in the community you serve</td>
<td>76%*</td>
<td>52%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

* Statistically significantly difference compared to nonexpansion states (p ≤ 0.05).

Data: Commonwealth Fund 2018 National Survey of Federally Qualified Health Centers.

Source: Corinne Lewis et al., The Role of Medicaid Expansion in Care Delivery at Community Health Centers (Commonwealth Fund, Apr. 2019).
Health Centers in Medicaid Expansion States Were More Likely to Report Participation in Value-Based Payment Arrangements

* Statistically significantly different compared to nonexpansion states (p ≤ 0.05).

Notes: HEDIS = Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set. PCMH = patient-centered medical home. Respondents were asked to think of their largest site if their health center organization operated more than one health center site.

Data: Commonwealth Fund 2018 National Survey of Federally Qualified Health Centers.

Source: Corinne Lewis et al., The Role of Medicaid Expansion in Care Delivery at Community Health Centers (Commonwealth Fund, Apr. 2019).
Health Centers in Medicaid Expansion States Were More Likely to Address Behavioral Health Needs of Patients

*Statistically significantly different compared to nonexpansion states (p ≤ .05).

Note: Respondents were asked to think of their largest site if their health center organization operated more than one health center site.

Data: Commonwealth Fund 2018 National Survey of Federally Qualified Health Centers.

Source: Corinne Lewis et al., The Role of Medicaid Expansion in Care Delivery at Community Health Centers (Commonwealth Fund, Apr. 2019).
Health Centers in Medicaid Expansion States Were More Likely to Address Social Needs of Patients

Health center usually or often . . .

- Coordinates patient care with social service providers in community:
  - FQHCs in expansion states: 58%*
  - FQHCs in nonexpansion states: 48%

- Offers transportation to and from medical appointments:
  - FQHCs in expansion states: 48%*
  - FQHCs in nonexpansion states: 39%

* Statistically significantly difference compared to nonexpansion states (p≤.05).

Note: Respondents were asked to think of their largest site if their health center organization operated more than one health center site.

Data: Commonwealth Fund 2018 National Survey of Federally Qualified Health Centers.

Source: Corinne Lewis et al., The Role of Medicaid Expansion in Care Delivery at Community Health Centers (Commonwealth Fund, Apr. 2019).
Health Centers in Medicaid Expansion States Were More Likely to Report Behavioral Health and Social Service Staffing Needs

Health center currently has budgeted, unfilled positions for . . .

- Licensed mental health providers, including psychiatrists and substance use disorder counselors
  - FQHCs in expansion states: 73%
  - FQHCs in nonexpansion states: 64%

- Social workers or others to help obtain social services
  - FQHCs in expansion states: 45%
  - FQHCs in nonexpansion states: 36%

* Statistically significantly difference compared to nonexpansion states (p ≤ 0.05).

Note: Respondents were asked to think of their largest site if their health center organization operated more than one health center site.

Data: Commonwealth Fund 2018 National Survey of Federally Qualified Health Centers.

Source: Corinne Lewis et al., The Role of Medicaid Expansion in Care Delivery at Community Health Centers (Commonwealth Fund, Apr. 2019).