

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

What's Next for Cost-Sharing Reductions? Understanding the Impact on Constituents and Insurance Markets

Monday, April 24, 2017

DEEP BANERJEE is a Director with S&P Global's Financial Services Ratings Group, based in New York. He is the life and health insurance sector lead for North American Insurance Ratings. He covers a portfolio of publicly-traded and private insurance companies. He is also involved in the criteria development process and publishing commentary articles on relevant topics. Related to the health insurance sector, he has published on health insurance reform related topics, including market trends, risk corridor, and other premium stabilization programs. In the life insurance space he has written on the sector outlook, middle market insurance, and capital and investment trends. Deep is a speaker at industry conferences and investor events on relevant topics. Additionally, Deep has been quoted by national publications like the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg, Washington Post, CNBC, and LifeHealthPro. Before joining the Insurance group, Deep was working in the Corporate Ratings team at S&P Global Ratings. He received his Bachelor of Arts from Marietta College, Ohio.

JOHN BERTKO is currently an independent actuarial consultant working as the Chief Actuary with Covered California (California's Insurance Marketplace) and performs contract work for CMS on specific projects related to the ACA. He was the Director of Special Initiatives and Pricing in the Center for Consumer Information and Insurance Oversight at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), retiring from this position as of January 31, 2014. He served on the Massachusetts Connector Board from October 2014 to March 2015. He formerly was a Senior Fellow at the LMI Center for Health Reform, Adjunct Staff at RAND, a Visiting Scholar at the Brookings Institution, a Visiting Scholar at the Center for Health Policy at Stanford and the retired Chief Actuary of Humana Inc., where he managed the corporate actuarial group and directed work by actuarial staff for Humana's major business units, including developing Part D, Medicare Advantage and consumer-driven health care products. He has extensive experience with risk adjustment and has served in several public policy advisory roles. He serves on the panel of health advisors for the Congressional Budget Office and completed a 6-year term on the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission (MedPAC). He served the American Academy of Actuaries as a board member from 1994 to 1996 and as vice president for the health practice council from 1995 to 1996. He is a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries. He has a B.S. in mathematics from Case Western Reserve University.

MODERATOR

SARA R. COLLINS is the vice president for Health Care Coverage and Access program at The Commonwealth Fund. An economist, Dr. Collins joined the Fund in 2002 and has led the Fund's national program on health insurance since 2005. Since joining the Fund, Dr. Collins has led several national surveys on health insurance and has authored numerous reports, issue briefs and journal articles on health insurance coverage and policy. She has provided invited testimony before several congressional committees and subcommittees. Prior to joining the Fund, Dr. Collins was associate director/senior research associate at the New York Academy of Medicine, Division of Health and Science Policy. Earlier in her career, she was an associate editor at U.S. News & World Report, a senior economist at Health Economics Research, and a senior health policy analyst in the New York

City Office of the Public Advocate. She holds an A.B. in economics from Washington University and a Ph.D. in economics from George Washington University.

TIMOTHY JOST is an emeritus professor at the Washington and Lee University School of Law. He is a coauthor of a casebook, Health Law, used widely throughout the United States in teaching health law and now in its seventh edition. He is also the author of Health Care at Risk, A Critique of the Consumer-Driven Movement, Health Care Coverage Determinations: An International Comparative Study, Readings in Comparative Health Law and Bioethics, and many articles and book chapters on health care regulation and comparative health law and policy. He has written numerous monographs on legal issues in health care reform for national organizations and blogs regularly for Health Affairs, where he is a contributing editor, on regulatory issues. He is a consumer representative to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and a member of the National Academy of Medicine.